

Due Diligence

In this context it means that you or the other parties are not negligent in the performance of your duties under the contract. Those who expert in the subject matter are held to a higher standard.